

The Easter Bunny Is Hopping To The Hamptons For Debut "Eggstravaganza" Event

Nicole Barylski

nbarylski@hamptons.com March 16, 2015

The free "hoppening" on the Montauk Village Green will feature a variety of fun activities and games. (Courtesy Photo)

"We are very excited to sponsor our first Eggstravaganza for our local kids and children visiting Montauk on Easter weekend," noted Laraine Creegan, Executive Director of the Montauk Chamber of Commerce. "Montauk is a wonderful destination in the spring for families to come out and celebrate the holiday weekend in our hamlet, and Eggstravaganza will be a great kick-off. Everything is now hatching and coming alive."

On Saturday, April 4th at 11 a.m., Montauk Chamber of Commerce and the Candied Anchor are hosting the inaugural "eggstravaganza" event. The free "hoppening" on the Montauk Village Green will feature a variety of fun activities and games including foot races and egg hunts, Easter baskets and bunny ears, and prizes.

Attendees are encouraged to sign-up early at the Montauk Chamber's office (742 Montauk Highway, Montauk) on Friday, April 3rd from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., or by 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 4th. The Eggstravaganza rain date is Sunday, April 5th at 12 p.m.

For more information, visit www.montaukchamber.com.